

I'm not robot!

Why do Girlguiding members make a Promise? Our Promise links us to other Girlguiding members and the ten million people involved in guiding across the world. Although we may have different languages, cultures and beliefs, each member makes a commitment to do their best: To be an active citizen of the community and the wider world To help others – from a kind word to a neighbour to huge international campaigns To develop her spiritual side - whatever she believes or cares about and to respect the beliefs of others These themes run through everything we do. Our inclusive Promise for all is a shared commitment for every member – from all faiths or none. This unity is what makes guiding so special. Watch our video to understand more about the Promise and Law. All Girlguiding members are invited to make the same Promise. "I promise that I will do my best, to be true to myself and develop my beliefs, to serve the Queen and my community, to help other people and to keep the (Brownie) Guide Law." We do have a shorter version for our youngest group, Rainbows. "I promise that I will do my best to think about my beliefs and to be kind and helpful." What the Promise means Making your Promise - whether you're a young member or volunteer - should be very special, so before you do, it is important you understand what it means. We encourage everyone to think about how they want to celebrate their commitment, and all members get a badge to remember making their Promise. I promise that I will do my best The Promise isn't about being perfect or the best at everything – it's about attempting new challenges and achieving their personal best. Girlguiding gives girls of all ages opportunities to try new things and develop their skills. To be true to myself We want members to be comfortable with who they are. We help them to be brave enough to stand up for the things that are important to them whilst celebrating the special things that make them happy. We talk to them about how sometimes being true to themselves means making difficult decisions – even if their friends don't agree. And develop my beliefs We all have different beliefs – some of these come from specific religions and others don't. This part of the Promise encourages girls to develop their own personal beliefs – whatever they are. Spiritual development includes helping girls reflect on their lives, decisions and their place in the world. Guiding also helps members learn about other beliefs and respect the spiritual choices of others. To serve the Queen and my community Serving others is at the heart of Girlguiding. We encourage members to do things to help protect the world – including the people and animals in it. Therefore they serve their community and the country they live in, which in the Promise is represented by the Queen, who is also the Patron of Girlguiding. To help other people Lending a hand has always been an important part of guiding. Members of Girlguiding help their friends, their family, girls in other countries or people in their local area. They also speak out about topics they feel passionate about and show one-another respect. And to keep the (Brownie) Guide Law The Brownie Law A Brownie Guide thinks of others before themselves and does a good turn every day. The Guide Law A Guide is honest, reliable and can be trusted. A Guide is helpful and uses her time and abilities wisely. A Guide faces challenge and learns from her experiences. A Guide is a good friend and a sister to all Guides. A Guide is polite and considerate. A Guide respects all living things and takes care of the world around her. Our members enjoy being part of a global guiding community of people who have all made the Promise - you can join in too! Lord Robert Baden-Powell encouraged the development of the whole person, including spiritual, moral, physical, mental, social, intellectual and emotional aspects. All of these aspects all were instrumental in the creation of the Fundamental Principles of Girl Guiding and Girl Scouting, outlined in the Original Promise and Law.Original PromiseOn my honour, I promise that I will do my best.To do my duty to God and the King (Or God and my country).To help other people at all times;To obey the Guide Law Girl Guides for younger girls Associazione Guide e Scouts Cattolici Italiani Coccinelle at Lombardy Regional Meeting Brownies are the section in the Girl Guides (or in the United States, Girl Scouts) organization for girls aged seven years old to ten years old.[1] Exact age limits are slightly different in each organization. History Brownies, originally called Rosebuds,[2] were first organized by Lord Baden-Powell in 1914, to complete the range of age groups for girls in Scouting. They were first run as the youngest group in the Guide Association by Agnes Baden-Powell, Lord Baden-Powell's younger sister. In 1918 his wife, Lady Olave Baden-Powell, took over the responsibility for the Girl Guides and thus for Brownies. Originally the girls were called Rosebuds, but were renamed by Lord Baden-Powell after the girls had complained that they did not like their name. Their name comes from the story "The Brownies" by Juliana Horatia Ewing, written in 1870. In the story two children, Tommy and Betty, learn that children can be helpful brownies instead of being lazy bogbarts. Italian history In Italy, the term was maintained and also extended to boys, coexisting with Wolf Cubs. United Kingdom A Brownies field trip at Ellesmere in 1954 In the United Kingdom, Brownies were originally called Rosebuds.[2] Rosebuds was started in 1914 and was originally for girls aged 8-11. Rosebuds was renamed to Brownies in 1915.[2] In 1937 Princess Margaret became the first royal Brownie.[3] Brownies is the second youngest section of Girlguiding in the UK, catering for girls aged 7-10. A group of Brownies who meet together is called a unit.[4] Brownies work in small groups called sixes: each six is named after either fairies or woodland creatures. A six is led by a Sixer and has a Second who acts as deputy. The Brownie programme is called the Brownie Adventure. It is split into 3 parts:[5] you, community, world. Brownies work towards interest badges, as of 2016[update] there are 57. These can be done in meetings with the unit or at home or in clubs such as swimming. Brownies can also work towards their Adventure badges. These are gained over a period of time and require girls to complete many different activities, such as going on an adventure, taking part in an activity with another unit and earning an interest badge. There are a few Brownie songs that some packs sing at the beginning of the meeting: Come let us make a Brownie ring, a Brownie Ring a Brownie Ring Come let us make a Brownie Ring, we hear our Brown Owl Calling. Under the Brownie bridge we go, bridge we go, bridge we go Under the Brownie bridge we go, because we are the..... (name of six is entered) This is usually sung as each six skips under the brownie bridge and into the circle. It is often followed by the next song: We're Brownie Guides, we're Brownie Guides, we're Brownie Guides, we're here to lend a hand To love our God and serve our Queen And to help our homes and land We're Brownie friends, we're Brownie friends In North, South, East and West We're joined together in our wish To try to do our best There are slight variations of the songs. Some packs also sing one of the traditional songs to end a meeting, to the tune of the Cambridge Chimes: O Lord, our God Thy children call Grant us Thy peace And bless us all O Lord, this week Thy children seek Good deeds to do And to be true Good-night (everyone then salutes each other) The UK headquarters of guides and brownies is on Buckingham Palace Road in London.[6] Motto, Promise and Law Australia In Australia (where girls of all ages are now called Girl Guides) the Guiding Promise is: I promise that I will do my best, To be true to myself and develop my beliefs, To serve my community and Australia, and live by the Guide Law. Prior to 2012, the Promise was: I promise that I will do my best, To do my duty to God, To serve the Queen and my country To help other people and keep the Guide Law. The Brownie Guide Law, prior to 1996, was: A Brownie Guide thinks of others before herself and should do a good turn everyday. The Brownie Promise 1990: I promise to do my best, to do my duty to God, to serve my Queen & my country, to help other people and to do a good deed every day. Motto 1990: Be prepared. The Brownie Guide Motto, prior to 1996, was: Lend a hand The Guide Law, Promise and Motto, which are followed by all ages of the guiding movement after 1996, are the Laws, Promise and Motto relating to the guide age group. Canada Brownie uniforms from Canada from the 2000s In Girl Guides of Canada, the Brownie Promise is:[7] I promise to do my best, To be true to myself, my beliefs and Canada, I will take action for a better world, And respect the Brownie Law. The Canadian Brownie Law is: As a Brownie I am honest and kind. I help take care of the world around me. The Canadian Brownie Motto is: Lend a Hand Old Promise: The old Brownie Promise is from the 1950s I promise to do my best, To do my duty to God and the Queen (or "to God, the Queen, and my country") To help other people every day, especially those at home. The English Brownie Law is: A brownie guide thinks of others before herself and does a good turn every day. The English Brownie Motto is: "Lend A Hand" (LAH) Hong Kong In Hong Kong, the Brownie Promise is: I will promise to do my best, To be true to myself, To my God, and my country, and the country in which I live, To help others and to keep the Brownie Guide Law. The Law is: As a Brownie Guide, I will care for my home, my community and myself. I will do a good turn every day. Ireland In Ireland, the Brownie Promise is: I promise to do my best, To do my duty to my God and my country, To help those at home everyday, And to obey the Brownie Guide Law. The word 'God' can be replaced by the word 'faith' according to one's spiritual beliefs.[8] The Irish Brownie Motto is: Lend a Hand Singapore The Singaporean Brownie Promise is: I promise to do my best, to do my duty to God, to serve my country, and help other people, and to keep the Brownie Law.The Singaporean Brownie Law is: A brownie obeys and respect her elders. A brownie thinks of others before herself. A brownie tells the truth. A brownie is neat and tidy. A brownie is thrifty. A brownie plays and works cheerfully. The Singaporean Brownie Motto is:Lend a hand United Kingdom An idealistic scene from the 1930s illustrating historic costumes: Bekonscot model village in the United Kingdom, the Brownie Promise is: I promise that I will do my best: To be true to myself and develop my beliefs, To serve the Queen and my community, To help other people and to keep the Brownie Guide Law. After a wide public consultation in spring 2013, the promise wording was changed for all sections. The Brownie promise before September 2013 was: I promise that I will do my best: To love my God, To serve the Queen and my country To help other people, And to keep the Brownie Guide Law. The Brownie Guide Law is: A Brownie Guide thinks of others before herself and does a good turn every day. The Brownie Guide Motto used to be 'Lend a hand' (LAH). With the introduction of the new programme in the United Kingdom, the motto was dropped for Brownies. United States In the United States, Brownies use the same Promise and Law as the other age groups of the Girl Scouts of the USA.[9] Girl Scout Promise: On my honor, I will try: To serve God and my country, To help people at all times, And to live by the Girl Scout Law.[9] Girl Scout Law: I will do my best to be honest and fair, friendly and helpful, considerate and caring, courageous and strong, and responsible for what I say and do, and to respect myself and others, respect authority, use resources wisely, make the world a better place, and be a sister to every Girl Scout.[9] References ^ "BROWNIES (7-10)". girlguiding.org.uk.
